Further Extension to EVM Stock Exchange Offer

EnviroMission's Stock Exchange Offer to SolarMission Technologies Inc, (SMT) common share and warrant holders that was due to expire at AEST 19:00, Friday 18 July, 2008, has been further extended to AEST 19:00, Friday 1 August, 2008, in order to provide sufficient time for all eligible stock holders to receive, consider and respond (if applicable) to the offer.

EnviroMission has been advised that a small number of SMT common share and warrant holders remain anxious to participate in the EnviroMission Stock Exchange Offer, however due to their own oversight (and obligation), their contact details were not current on the SMT stock register and they had not received the Stock Exchange Offer documents to act on the offer.

EnviroMission directors considered this information and have extended the offer to avoid any disadvantage to any SMT stock holders in the belief the extension is also in the best interest of the overall aim of the offer.

The Stock Exchange Offer has been made by EnviroMission with the aim of EnviroMission acquiring majority ownership of SMT in order to control Solar Tower development in all markets.

Ends.
